

New You

Words and Music by Joe Hand 352-552-8056

©2010 McHand Publishing BMI

Another silent dinner
Mouths and minds are full
Words not really needed
An uninspired lull

I miss the feelings that we were
They're not with us now I'm sure

I want a new set of mistakes that I'll never live down
I need a more excited greeting when I come around
I want a new pet name or names that make me feel the way I used to
I want a new you...
I want a new you

Another verbal crescendo
Dueling tongues and hearts
Words not really needed
Only daggers and darts

I miss the language that we were
We're not poetry now I'm sure

I want a new set of mistakes that I'll never live down...

Next exit on the freeway belongs to you and me
End of the line for us babe, let's end our misery

Bass, Ac Gtrs, Voc: Joe Hand
Drums, Tamborine: Tony Morra
Elec Gtrs: James Mitchell
Piano, Organ: Mike Rojas